

Prince Tui Teka, Walking In The Sun

Things have been going wrong long enough to know everything is right Been walking in the dark long enough to know i've finally seen the light been losing long enough to know when i've found the line

Even a blind man can tell when he's walking in the sun i've cried enough tears to know this feeling called a smile (a smile) been bottom rung long enough to know when i do it in style (in style) been running, long enough to know theres no more need to run

(musical interlude)

well the wind is at my back sailing on the ship overdue blown so many chances ain't going to blow this one with you been running long enough to know theres more need to run

Even a blind man can tell when he's walking in the sun
Even a blind man can tell when he's walking in the sun
Even a blind man can tell when he's walking in the sun
Even a blind man can tell when he's walking in the sun (walking, walking, walking, walking in the sun)
Even a blind man can tell when he's walking in the sun
Even a blind man can tell when he's walking in the sun (continues to song end)
