

Priscilla Ahn, Are we different

Come on,
the day is ending.
And we are tired from walking over and under this town.
Look here,
the fight is starting.
As we near the people are parting.
Oh my, my tired soul
Are we shy?, are we setting new ground?
Are we high when we're watching downtown?
Are we different?
Look close,
your face is changing.
Like most its only aging from all these tired tears.
Come on,
its getting better.
Looks like we're in for warm weather
for the next three billion years.
Are we shy?, are we setting new ground?
Are we high when we're watching downtown?
Are we different?
Are we different?
Are we different?
Are we gonna figure this out?
Are we gonna figure this out?
Are we shy?, are we setting new ground?
Are we high when we're watching downtown?
Are we different?
