

Private Line, Already Dead

Wild town is dead and a new day born
Behind the sea where we grew up
Still same fear makes me sick
I am proud of you, my son
You will be the chosen one

I don't care what they say
(I wanted to breathe, but I can't)
Say hello to me, my best friend
You're already dead

There was a time when we reached towards the rainbow
We touched it when it was too low
Some day I'll be stronger than dark night
Free like a sun, I'm ready to the other side

And I don't care what they say
(Say hello to me, my best friend)
I wanted to breathe, but I can't
I'm already dead

And no one knows
What they're talking about
And now I know
They've got nothing inside
And no one knows
What they're talking about
And now I know
What they want

But I don't care what they say
(I wanted to breathe, but I can't)
Say hello to me my best friend
You're already dead
Already dead
Already dead
Already dead
Already dead
