

Private Line, Anyway

I wouldn't mind if I were to die this morning
I wouldn't care if the sky fell down on me
The tide has turned, what did I learn?
I burned out but somehow did survive
Felt weak, yet I stayed alive

Now I find it so damn hard to keep on breathing
And I find it so damn hard to make it through to the other side
Still every time I've tried to change
The world has brought me down
And she said, "Anyway," she said, "Anyway."

I couldn't find what I have been searching
I couldn't bear such a burden in my hand
Made a U-turn, there's no return
Deserve another chance to try
Or is it all just a waste of time?

Now I find it so damn hard to keep on breathing
And I find it so damn hard to make it through to the other side
Still every time I try to change
The world has brought me down
And she said, "Anyway," she said, "Anyway."

Don't say you made your choice for me
Say you made it for yourself
Don't say you made your choice for me
Say you made it for yourself

Don't say you made your choice for me
Say you made it for yourself
Don't say you made your choice for me

Now I find it so damn hard to keep on breathing
And I find it so damn hard to make it through to the other side
Still, every time I try to change
The world has brought me down
And she said, "Anyway," she said, "Anyway."

Don't say you made your choice for me
It's so hard
Say you made it for yourself
To keep on breathing
Don't say you made your choice for me
Every time I try
Say you made it for yourself
Still, every time I try to change
The world has brought me down
And she said, "Anyway," she said, "Anyway."

She said, "Anyway."
She said, "Anyway."
She said, "Anyway."
She said, "Anyway."
She said, "Anyway."
She said, "Anyway."
