

Progress In Color, Dreamer

I'll write this down inside my heart, for you to see all the times I tried so hard to take away every smile, every dream, in your heart
We'll say tonight we made a difference, for once,
but whose to blame?
Cause I try so hard, but for what reward?
When our worlds, they are the same.

Leave me alone
I made this decision
and now I live to it.

There's so many things that I could say,
but this "goodbye" tonight makes tomorrow look so good.
There's so many things that I could say,
but this "goodbye" tonight makes tomorrow look so good.

I'll paint a picture, so you can see exactly what I mean, when I scream my lungs out and try to get to you/ to get to you.

Leave me alone
I made this decision
and I live to it.
I don't care where we go from here,
but I am on my own.

There's so many things that I could say,
but this "goodbye" tonight makes tomorrow look so good.
There's so many things that I could say,
but this "goodbye" tonight makes tomorrow look so good.
