

Progress, Lost The Faith

(Chorus)

Lost the faith

Lost the faith

Lost the faith

Each day, this heart is filled with ache

I'm broken and deranged, struck down by some kind of sudden change.

And for all I know it will stay this way.

Like a ship with no course or a slow pulling force which is dragging me down until I'm in a void.

On the world I see there is nothing like security for all who want to live their lives so free.

And I fear for some the moment has come when their positive views will cause their demise.

(chorus)

People passing on, friends I knew which are too far gone.

In this life I am alone.

A feeling of hate or a spreading decay

like a voice in the past which had warned me to sway.

The paths which are chosen are filled with disaster.

Waiting for death seems all that is left.

A sting makes aware that I must dare to burn all the bridges that I leave behind.

(chorus):

Lost the faith, and now I'm released from the pain of hope.

Can't you see I'm gonna break?

Life hurts more than I can take.

Cynicism burns inside this fate

And tells me that I have lost the faith.
