Psapp, Infra Red

Your spit still clings to bottles in the fridge It brings relief to know that you've been there All this time

The taste of AM shifting through the darkest night It battles for a space that's right How I collect

My eyes you drew Cross them for something to do Mmmm

Barefeet cross, in infrared they meet They last, the images they make still stay Close to me

Pins and things, they're caught up in your hair They made, they made me want to care, still there And I collect

Half-sucked sweets and fine receipts Stuck in my pocket for you For you