

Psychotic Waltz, Northern Lights

laughing at the city freaks a carnival of gimps and tweaks dogs are hungry for the meat they drag it screaming through the street everybody passing by afraid to look them in the eye corner dealer selling while I tell him I don't want to buy

one night of calm, through the Netherlands to northern lights and incense surrounding again now we are coming, Amsterdam will bring northern lights and incense again wait at the corner for a white electric caterpillar ride take us to the other side (where the Katsu and the Old Man hide) flying through the cloudy day feeling like I'm far away nothing like a sky of gray to keep me feeling in my way

one night of calm, through the Netherlands
to northern lights and incense surrounding again

to northern lights and incense surrounding again

can you see the city lights chase the shadows from the night?
(still the ember burning bright) now we never pass it to the right the stars are in the sky another color in my eye feeling happy, feeling high (feeling like I'm still alive)
