

Puddle Of Mudd, I Think I Used To Love You

You made me laugh some you made me cry some too
You sent me off to a world of pain, and made me someone new.
You made all kinds of promises, but only some came true
Now I know you need me.
More then I need you

To think I used to love you,
For reasons I don't know
You polished up my halo, and I dirtied out your soul.
I sure had a good time.
But we both know I can't stay
To think I used to love you,
But I'm leaving anyway

You know that I'm not perfect,
And I tried to make you see
Somehow you thought of everything,
But you didn't think of me
Lies and disapointment makes your world go 'round
It's too late to save me
So you might as well come now.

To think i used to love you,
For reasons I don't know
You polished up my halo,
And I dirtied out yur soul.
I sure had a good time.
But we both know I can't stay
to think I used to love you,
But I'm leaving anyway (reapeat 2)
