

Puff Daddy, What You Gonna Do (feat. The Fami

It's a Hell Up in Harlem, fuckit, another day another dollar, wake up, to the barking from the Rottweilers

Pull the collars, make em sit for the Godfather
Then I holler, to Justin my son, run the water for the shower, trust fund scholarship sure to give him power

Baby momma call, she pick him up, in about an hour
Now free to go, free to blow, with the calicos and the navajos, it's just the way this player knows anything goes, finally caught up with my nigga Sam Sam Picked me up, in the tan Lex Land Wanted breakfast down at Pan Pan's, what's your favorite dish?

He ordered cheese eggs and grits, I had the swordfish
What is this? Three niggaz dressed in black Roleys on they wrist, feathers in they hat
One tapped me on my back, then pointed at my stack Put my finger on the trigger then I asked him, "Whatchu want nigga?"

[Chorus: Puff Daddy]

Whatchu gonna do when it's your turn to go
Whatchu gonna do when you can't take no mo'
You gonna cry like a bitch or take it nice and slow
Whatchu gonna do when it's your turn to go

[repeat 2X]

[Verse Two: Puff Daddy]

I pray to God that I'm dreamin, I know my family wouldn't take it, when the doctor said, "He ain't make it";

Mom Dukes cryin, baby mom full of grief

How she gonna tell her son his daddy is deceased?

Now she got beef with them bitches up the street

All because I used to creep, with her girlfriend Sharese

She knows, I keep the hoes, from nation, to nation

On every radio station, Goodfellas in rotation, uhh

That's why niggaz wanna twist my shit, flip my wig

Attempt to murder me like Tommy Gills

Before they draw, niggaz threw me to the floor

Drill holes in my pocket, Sam launch the rocket

They wanna rip my arms out the socket, fuckin heathens

Love to see a nigga stop breathin

I heard a voice sing out, "Ain't you Sean Puffy Combs?"

Here's your eulogy, meet you at the Crossroads";

G'night Bone

[Chorus]

[Verse Three: Puff Daddy]

Nothing but clouds and white suits fill my vision

Watching my life go down, like Christian

Listen hear them bullets rang, shotguns and Mac millis spraying like a hurricane in this war called the terror

And deuce deuces can't stand the pain

Little guns ain't got no business in this blizzard

they just kibitz, here's five shots to visit, blaka

Blowin bullet holes sizes of door knockers

Three headed for my chest straight, the other two came a little late, and just barely missed my face

I'm tryin to find a steady place between two cars

One of us gon' either wind up dead, or behind bars

Shit, I'm just tryin to live, so I can raise my kid and own the world, bone all the girlie girls

That's when I finally figured out

That's that nigga David Arthur, Sharese baby father

And I didn't even bother to ask no further questions

No more confessions only suggestions
I think Sam set me up, cause them bullets squeezed up from the rear, and Sam was the only nigga there Then they all peeled out in the rental, aluminum Sam in the passenger seat, so I'm assumin them niggaz didn't even get to peep
Lil' Kim and them, in the backseat, with the heat Clips they feelin em, to the top, shit ain't sweet
Once the light turns red, nuff said, that's dead
They fled, and they waved, hot lead
If I aimed up, I'd be on my deathbed
Sucker move, for that they don't get no props
Lil' Kim and them, mad they ain't bust no shots
We in the block, no Land posters just old posters of gangsta niggaz I see ghosts of gangsta figures
I'm tryin to hold my own when they snatched me out the car Took me in the saloon and said, "Puffy, there you are"
Them same cats we chased two blocks had new spots washin dishes, I guess for goin out like bitches
I smacked em, gave a little speech, to mirth
Happiness, cause me and all my peeps got hurt
That night, I said a little prayer, me and Justin That's when I heard the bustin, yeah
[Chorus]
