

Pug Jelly, Another Heartache

I can't make sense in what i've done,
She starts to cry, she starts to run.
When things aren't bad enough to change,
Then things will stay the same...

Why can't you see that,
No matter what you do some things won't change?
Why can't you see that,
You screwed up once or twice and put me through this pain.
Why can't you see that,
I'm trying hard for things to stay the same.

You told the truth,
So things will stay the same...
I'm thinking about you.

I look at you and,
feel my heart bursting through my chest.
Another heartache-
What teenage years are all about but this has been a test.
So please believe me,
I hope that things will work out for the best.

You told the truth,
So things will stay the same...
I'm thinking about you and time goes by so slowly,
When you're away, i'm thinking about you!

I hope you had your fun at the end of the day,
The one who really cares is waiting for you to say...
"And i know, it's ok"
But i can't make sense of what you said today.

You told the truth,
So things will stay the same...
I'm thinking about you...
Time goes by slow when you're not there...
Time goes by slow when you're not there!
