

Punchline, Just Getting Started

So move out of my way.
Can't control me anymore.
I'm on fire again just like before.
I get like this sometimes.
Ignore the warning signs.
Leave it up to me to be the one who's burning.

Everyone is too busy for me.
Seems they do it to me purpously. To me.

I'm not done yet, I'm just getting started. (Whoa, Whoa)
I'm not done yet, I'm just getting started. (Whoa, Whoa)
I'm not done yet, I'm just getting started. (Started on my way)

It gets harder every minute but I think I'm fine.
Just getting started but already see the finish line.
This is what I need.
Fast forward cause we haven't done that one yet.
Just let me know so I have time to smoke a cigarette
when it's time to leave.

With the world in my hands.
Could I change it if I want?
And who are you to answer that for me.
If by chance, or a cheater, I'd leave it up to neither.
Confidence rules present tense and it could shatter all my dreams.
Hold still while I put these words in your mouth. (Speakers speaking)
Hold still while I put these words in your mouth. (Speakers speaking)

I'm not done yet, I'm just getting started. (Whoa, Whoa)
I'm not done yet, I'm just getting started. (Whoa, Whoa)
I'm not done yet, I'm just getting
I'm not done yet, I'm just getting
I'm not done yet, I'm just getting started on my way.

I will burn. It's my turn.
I will burn. It's my turn.
The speakers are speaking, but I don't know what they're thinking.
I've always been content with hearing.
I'm not racing anyone... anywhere.
I'm not racing anyone... anywhere.
