

Punchline, Open Up

Hey you've got me now, In this room
Too young to die now, so confused
Open up
And say "ahh" and get what's coming to ya"
Tonights the night I show you what I think is right
When it's over and you wish that you waited
If you waited would it be much different now
Is it real or just imagination
You wanna find the truth, but don't know how
Hey you've got me
Would it make much of a difference
Would you even really care. Oh
Yeah! You never made a difference
Yeah! You never really cared
When it's over and you wish that you waited
If you waited would it be much different now
Is it real or just imagination
You wanna find the truth, but don't know how
Can you wake up to me
Will you wake up to me
Wake up to me
Wake up to me
Wake up to me
Wake up to me
