

Puracane, Not Today

I don't know what went wrong, do you need a reason?
My sense has been and gone
And taken my head
All feeling shot to hell
Do you need to see this
I shot my foot as well

I don't know what to say
You got me
It hasn't gone away
And I haven't changed
You haven't found a way
To stop me
I'm set to go again

What I don't need
Won't help 'cause he knows me
Too well what I should be
Myself but not today I'm miles away
And not so well at all

All my days
I want to be somewhere else
A cold embrace
Has taken me into his hell
For all I need
I want you to take it back
For all I take
I want you to help me out

What I don't need
Won't help 'cause he knows me
Too well what I should be
Myself but not today I'm miles away
And not so well at all

I don't know what to say
You got me
It hasn't gone away
And I haven't changed
You haven't found a way
To stop me
I'm set to go again

What I don't need
Won't help 'cause he knows me
Too well what I should be
Myself but not today I'm miles away
And not so well at all
