

Pure Reason Revolution, Goshen's Remains

Cooling me so bright, the light is stunning over the motions again
Threw away delight, in spite of nothing over, we're older again
She digs her heels over there
Fools, serene, survive, soon she'll rationalize

Fooling me so slight, his smiles cunning over emotion again
Newer ways and insights, in light of nothing over, they're older again
He leaves my needs over there
Gleaming seas arise, soon she'll rationalize

Over and over, the show flies discover through warm fields
Over and over, the snow lies uncovered through the storm fields
Please lead us through the remains

Moving me so bright, his smiles stunning over the notions again
Fewer days in fright, the ladies gunning, overline Goshen's remains
He preaches fear over there
Gleaming seas arise, soon she'll rationalize

Over and over, the show flies discover through the warm fields
Over and over, the snow lies uncovered through the storm fields
They laze in dawn-light fire

The morning dew rolls over the planet,
Clear words child!
Far away plans

The skies' sublime lunation towards the setting sun,
With eyes of painted dilation towards the fragile sun,
Their sight in firm fixation towards the setting sun,
We've seen the ruined foundations towards the fragile sun

Gleaming seas, horizons weave
Gleaming seas, horizons weave through time
