

Puressence, All I Want

Self disintergrating not worth educating All I want to do is drag you down, I climb out of my fox hole my own sweet chicken pox hole, All I want to do is snuff you out

Tell me if I could be like I was last night again, trying to convince you that black was white again, oh you say you know I know you don't

I've got a picture in my mind,
sat on a chair near a broken blind with you,
A little scene left way behind,
sat in the church of the broken spine with you.

Lay back watching football with no interest at all, why can't I just never see it through,

Tell me if I could be like I was last night again,
you could be wrong and be oh so right again, oh you say you know I know you don't (x2)

I've got a picture in my mind,
sat on a chair near a broken blind with you,
A little scene left way behind,
sat in the church of the broken spine with you.
