

Pushover, Yo Se

Experience has led me to conclusions
I don't like this game of our confusions
People come and people go just like you
I don't know what else is there to do
There's something wrong there's something gone
Just cared about you
The stupid things you say
Have made me go away
And I don't care I do not care
Don't care about you
Now you've found me out
Everybody always want to be liked
I don't care cause I never liked you
Standing out is utterly important
Thinking it's fun but when will it all end
