

Pyramaze, Shadow Of The Beast

Lurking, breathing, watching, hunting his home is the shadow world a taste for flesh of man a cunning being with a plan

He will command your final hour from his hunger, demon power

Sinner or saint, it's all the same the taste of your flesh is what you can blame this beast has no conscience, only pure will the only religion, the taste of the kill

Executioner, punisher wolf or demon, or message from God the eyes of the beast are greedy indeed don't try to explain what you can not Executioner, punisher
wolf or demon, or message from God

Many beasts suffered an ill fate another mindless savage hunt pure revenge by the hand of man to find the beast of Gvaudan

Eye for an eye, lie after lie hunters seeking recognition

You can not catch a shadow you can not slay what you can not find the land holds a secret born of the soil revealed only in the dark of the mind

Executioner, punisher
wolf or demon, or message from God
Executioner, punisher
wolf or demon, or message from God

Three years of terror finished as they started an elusive guest has come and gone awakened fear in everyone a story told for centuries
