

Quasi, The Skeleton

When the dream comes to an end
& I wake up once again,
It's no surprise anymore
When the knock comes on my door.
& I go from place to place
& always see your face;
But you're not there anymore
When the knock comes on my door.
So I stayed awake all night,
Trying to think things right,
& I'm down on the floor
When the knock comes on my door.
