

Queen Adreena, Hide From Time

Inside her tower she is free from harm
I'll lock her up inside, safe and warm
She'll sleep for winter, she'll sleep for years
The garden's overgrown over her tears

Hide from time, hide from time
Hide from time, hide from time

I grow her garden year after year
The roots dug deep, she won't be found down here
Brambles, thorns will keep the boys away- hey hey, hey hey
She needs her sleep, she won't play today

Hide from time, hide from time
Hide from time, hide from time
Hide from time, hide from time
Hide from time, hide from time

I'll keep her heart, I'll keep it in one piece
I'll be with her through years and years of sleep
I'll make this moment last- I'll beat time
I'll be with her forever, make her mine

Hide from time, hide from time
Hide from time, hide from time
Hide from time, hide from time
Hide from time, hide from time (hide from time, hide from time)
Hide from time, hide from time (hide from time, hide from time)
Hide from time, hide from time (hide from time, hide from time)
Hide from time, hide from time (hide from time, hide from time)
Hide from time, hide from time (hide from time, hide from time)
