Queens Of The Stone Age, 3's and 7's

Lie, lie to my face Tell me it ain't no thing That's what I wanna hear Take, your lie to the grave That's what an old friend told me Look what it did for him Refr: The truth hurts so bad, wouldn't you say? So why tell it? If ignorance is bliss, then I'm in Heaven now Run, you'll never escape You see, you'll go nowhere Based on who you appear Broke, laid to waste Turn into sweet no-things Kiss you goodbye Refr: The truth hurts so bad, wouldn't you say? So why tell it? If ignorance is bliss, then I'm in Heaven now Keep going over and over again The never ending places I've never been No one is catching on Callin' my bluff The devil made me holier than I've ever been What'd you do? Say it with a smile, boy Making us all forget What'd you do? Say it with a smile, boy Making us all forget Making us all forget Making us all forget
