Utwór 'Carnavoyeur' z albumu 'In Times New Roman' od Queens Of The Stone Age (premiera 16 c

Nothing,
Nothing,
Nothing inside
& there's no reason to cry
Just fade away.... Like love.

Clutching,
Hanging,
By a nail in this life
Desperate always looks that way
Free fall from the nest, Then glide to the left
A shine catch the eye, So flow to the right
Flying high, realize, There are no more mountains to climb
There's nothing I can do accept enjoy the view
When there's nothing I can do, I smile

Minutes, seconds, so little time
Give your secrets away?
Well, whisper in my ear

Every living thing will die from the king of the jungle to butterfly
Only sin is.....
Waiting too long

When there's nothing I can do, I smile

Free fall from the nest, Then glide to the left
A shine catch the eye, So float to the right
Flying high, realize, There are no more mountains to climb

We live, we die, we fail, we rise
I'm a vulture so I hear goodbyes
There's no end to life
On & on...
Always life
