Queens Of The Stone Age, Mosquito Song

I know, I know the sun is hot Mosquitos come suck your blood Leave you there all alone Just skin and bone When you walk among the trees Listening to the leaves The further I go the less I know The less I know Where will you run?

Where will you hide? Lullabies

To paralyze Fat and soft, pink and weak

Foot and thigh, tongue and cheek

You know I'm told they swallow you whole

Skin and bone

Cutting boards and hanging hooks Bloody knives, cooking books Promising you won't feel a thing

At all

Swallow and chew

Eat you alive

All of us food that hasn't died

And the light says

Somehow they pick and pluck

Tenderize bone to dust

The sweetest grease, finest meat you'll ever taste

Taste, taste

So you scream, whine, and yell Supple sounds of dinner bells

We all will feed the worms and trees So don't be shy

Swallow and chew

Eat you alive

All of us food that hasn't died
