

Queens Of The Stone Age, Wake Up Screaming

I don't think I am what I was before
Because I never watched anyone die before
I wish I never left home
I wish I left it all alone
Temptation is a disease
Cause you never do as you please
Your body takes over, your mind don't care
Never think twice what might happen... out there!

Screaming Screaming Screaming Screaming

Go straight in for the ultimate sin!
Nobody else ever seems to CARE!
So I took what I thought was mine
And I went for a very long time
And I thought I knew what happened to you

I don't think I think like I did before
I never watched anyone die before
I felt like I died as well
The look, the words, the smell
The way you looked at me
As if I'd never been free
I remember the words like a favorite song
Cause I forget the way things went wrong
Faked a picture of perfect health
I realised I was killing myself

I don't think I am what I was before
I never watched anyone die before
I dream in slow motion and I wake up screaming
