

Queensberry, Why Should I Believe In You

Try as I might
I'm losing this fight
Each time you take my head confusing
Drummers my mind

Which way to go from here
When I'm decided by my fears
I missing you so much can't deny
And sitting and asking myself why...

Why should I believe in you
Cause the love in my heart still remains Could this fear a chance I gotta take or giving my all or let it fade away
hm... hmm...
Why should I believe in you

Did you fall from the same lies Did you think I never realise
All the things that you try to hide It's to late for compromise...

Why should I believe in you
Cause the love in my heart still remains
Could this fear a chance I gotta take
or giving my all
or let it fade away
Why should I believe in you
why should I believe in you Why should I believe in you
