

Queensryche, How Could I?

There you were like a ghost from my early days, staring straight ahead at me.
How could I ever guess, from that moment on, just how everything would change.
How could I know?

I recall something strange coming over me, somewhat at a loss for words.
I'd been around and had my share of what I thought my soul could bare, but never seen what I saw

How could I know?
We never took it slow.
We gave it all we had and more.

How could I know?
We never took it slow.
We gave it all we had and more.

Looking back at where we've been, the road ahead is so uncertain.
We keep passing open windows forever.

I've tried before I'll try again, I never know where we're going.
I only know that I'll be yours forever ... yours forever ... forever ... forever.

How could I know?
We never took it slow.
We gave it all we had.
We gave it all we had.
