

Quiet Riot, South Of Heaven

[Verse 1:]

Well I realize that love can be foolish and I realize it can be unkind
Its a never ended river of fear ahead and behind
Your always full of righteous indignation, you can put that where the sun never shines
All I need is one more thing to fear, and a dark place to hide

[Chorus:]

You know youre south of heaven
A quarter mile from hell
You know youre south of heaven
Will you take me down- only time will tell

[Verse 2:]

You think everything can be purchased, you think everyone has their price
Just like the fool that I am I believed you were right
Youre always thinking about meditation
In contact with spirits all the time
Ive got a magic trick for you its disappearing time

[Bridge:]

Stay away from my house- keep out of my life
I cant take no more
I see snakes on your head
Id rater be dead- You already are
