Quiet Riot, South Of Heaven

[Verse 1:]

Well I realize that love can be foolish and I realize it can be unkind Its a never ended river of fear ahead and behind Your always full of righteous indignation, you can put that where the sun never shines All I need is one more thing to fear, and a dark place to hide

[Chorus:]

You know youre south of heaven A quarter mile from hell You know youre south of heaven Will you take me down- only time will tell

[Verse 2:]

You think everything can be purchased, you think everyone has their price Just like the fool that I am I believed you were right Youre always thinking about meditation In contact with spirits all the time Ive got a magic trick for you its disappearing time

[Bridge:]

Stay away from my house- keep out of my life I cant take no more I see snakes on your head Id rater be dead- You already are