Ra, The Only One

You think I notice that you're standing there right next to me Am I supposed to bow my head and thank you gratefully You break my heart and turn around to get what still remains I sold my soul and bought my fear, my inner pain Without a clue I trust I follow you with my eyes blind And what I cannot see I need I cannot leave behind With all those eyes on me, their hunger is insanity I can see you standing there, do you wanna be free do you wanna be me

I don't wanna be the only one To see my name wrote up on the sun I don't wanna be the only one To watch it fall into the sea I don't wanna have to play the game To sell my soul, betray my name I don't wanna be the only one To watch it fall into the sea

So you just sit there stuck Afraid to risk reality Those words are mine And you can find them deep inside of me You walk away Some how dismayed at what you may have done The lies, the dreams, the broken promises, the only one I can't remember whose I dea it was to make this real Divided equally my feelings I still cannot feel And there you are you're all alone inside your fantasy I can see you standing there, Do you wanna be free, do you wanna be me

I don't wanna be the only one To see my name wrote up on the sun I don't wanna be the only one To watch it fall into the sea I don't wanna have to play the game To sell my soul, betray my name I don't wanna be the only one To watch it fall into the sea

And when the light is gone and it's just you and me Will you allow us to be who we're supposed to be Or will time erode our thoughts, our will, insanity

I don't wanna be the only one To see my name wrote up on the sun I don't wanna be the only one To watch it fall into the sea I don't wanna have to play the game To sell my soul, betray my name I don't wanna be the only one To watch it fall into the sea

I don't wanna be the only one (x4) To watch it fall into the sea
