

Rachael Lampa, We Will Always Remember - The

On a day like any other,
We never knew how much our world would change.
In one moment of madness,
We knew our lives could never be the same.

Though today our hearts are breaking,
And time is standing still;
We'll face this day together
Knowing that our hope is real.

We will always remember
The love that you've shared.
You've touched our lives.
We will never forget you...
Your mem'ry will always survive.

So today we light a candle
To overcome the darkness and the fear...
Sending light into the shadows,
And breaking through the sadness and the tears.

As the light grows slowly brighter
And is passed from friend to friend,
We'll hold onto to treasured moments,
And our love will never end.

We will always remember
The love that you've shared.
You've touched our lives.
We will never forget you...

Your memory will always survive.

The wind whips through the flowers;
The tender petals fall.
But raging storms cannot erase
The beauty we recall.

Though broken hearts are left behind...
Feel like they'll never mend,
Hold tight to hope, sweet Columbine,
For you shall bloom again!

We will always remember (we'll always remember)
The love that you've shared.
You've touched our lives. (You've touched our lives!)
We will never forget you (never forget you), (never)
Your mem'ry will always survive (oh, yeah oh-oh!).

(You touched our lives.)
We will always remember (always remember)
The love that you've shared.
You've touched our lives... (You've touched our lives!)
We will never forget you (forget you),
Your mem'ry will always survive (survive, always).

Your mem'ry will always survive.
Survive (mmm-hmm) survive (oh, yeah) survive (ooh) survive (ooh-hoo-ooh) Ooh-ooh ooh.... (survive)
You've touched our lives.
