

Rachael Sage, Calypso

You laugh so easily and I'm shivering
just hearing you breathe.
And I don't know what's coming over me.
It's been years since you were this to me.

But I hate all these secrets inside our friendship.
and I wish I could fake this pretending not to want more.

I need more than this.
And I'm sure it's a reckless kiss.
But I don't think I care,
so Calypso if you dare
drown me I'm not scared.

And it didn't help that you were so afraid.
And I guess it didn't help that I was so jaded.
And I know ever since I have been paying for all the many mistakes that I made.

But I hate all this waiting for sake of friendship.
And it's been so frustrating pretending not to want more.

I need more than this.
And I'm sure it's a poison bliss.
But I don't think I care,
so Calypso if you dare
drown me I'm not scared.

You laugh so easily and I'm shivering
just hearing you breathe.
And I don't know what's coming over me.
It's been years since you were this to me.

...Oh c'mon get over here.
Oh Calypso if you dare
drown me I'm not scared.
