

Rad Kick, Saw A Light

A sunshine in the dawn passion enflamed to a neverending storm
After my love has gone, night turns to day all visions away
Don't go away
I never promised you to come back and stay Now I feel lost and 'lone surrounded by spring it cuts to the bone where do I go the moon meets the sun tomorrow welcome

I'm still loving you Please let me know what I can do Saw a light in your eyes there must be something you're hiding from me Now I know our love's a lie
Now I see you again and I'm ready for a new beginning of the game
But this time you are the puppet of mine and I'm holding the twine
I remember me low Didn't you promise that you never let me go
