

Radial Angel, Beautiful

Last night I saw the moon's reflection dancing on the midnight tide.
And it made me think of heaven-
too perfect to describe.
The kind of moment in your life
that somehow burns into your soul...
Beautiful.

Like the way you let the wind blow
and tangle up your hair.
Or when you sing into the mirror,
when you think nobody's there.
And how you cry for people
and try to change the things you know I fear.
You make the world...

Beautiful, and that's what you are-beautiful, and my favorite part
is everything about you.
Every word you say goes straight to my heart.
Cause you are beautiful.

I see the way you live and love with everything you've got.
And I've never seen you claim to be something that you're not.
You feel His plans and you follow with your life.
So anyway, you make my life

Beautiful, and that's what you are-
beautiful, and my favorite part
is everything about you.
Every word you say goes straight to my heart.
Cause you are...

Inside and out,
there is nobody like you.
I don't know how,
but every day you get more

Beautiful, and that's what you are-
beautiful, and my favorite part
is everything about you.
Every word you say goes straight to my heart.
Cause you are beautiful.
Beautiful, and my favorite part
is everything about you.
Every word you say goes straight to my heart.
Cause you are beautiful.
