

Radiohead, No Surprises Please

He was sick of his clock stopping wind it up, that girls stayed sleeping next to him

Watch stops, the batteries run down he started his broken sentence, "no alarms..."

The watch stops, the batteries run down, he started his broken sentence, "no alarms and no surprises..."

He was sick of her excuses to not take off her dress when bleedin' in the bathroom

He was sick of his clock stopping, wind it up no alarms an no surprises... no alarms an no surprises... no alarms an no surprises, please