

Rag'n'Bone Man, As You Are

You raised the lights when it was frightening
You calmed the storm when it was rising
You found me there where I was hiding
All I have is here and now

If the ground beneath our feet has disappeared
I'll be here beside you
Always be right near you
Remember me
Won't you?

I know we've all got our problems
And it's a blessing that we made it here so far
If you lay here in these arms tonight I promise
I promise to take you
To take you as you are

When I was reaching out in the dark
When the streets blow just looked so far
When I forgot everything that I was
All I needed was your love

If the Earth beneath our feet is old
And caved in
For a second we will fight
When it's late in the evening
Don't let me go, dear

I know we've all got our problems
And it's a blessing that we made it here so far
If you lay here in these arms tonight I promise
I promise to take you
To take you as you are

take you as you are
take you as you are
take you as you are
take you as you are

I know we've all got our problems
And it's a blessing that we made it here so far
If you lay here in these arms tonight I promise
I promise to take you
To take you as you are