Rage Against the Machine, Producer Fall From th

earth shares what earth receives and now only blood brings life a killer bring life, producer bring life protector bring life, soiled hands bring life the tree of democracy shall be watered by the blood of revolution so go plant a seed, go plant a seed for harvest go plant a seed for harvest producer producer, producer, producer, producer and it all shall fall by the grace of the people and it all shall fall by the grace of the people and it all shall fall by the grace of the people and it all shall fall by the grace of the people and it all shall fall it all shall fall i first met you and the ideas you uphold while incarserated a victim of a social experiment eventually addicted to your eight hour injections of hypocrisy and arrogance and greed forced to sit with coplicity in front of my executioners as they bludgeoned me with their so called superior values and demanded my submission i bacame an indentured servant in a factory where I myself was the product who's useful quality was to protect their palaces every word uttered from their mouths strangeled me so that every thought I express shall sow the seed for the noose around their necks and set fire to their homes and every word uttered from their mouths strangeled me so that every thought I express shall sow the seed for the noose around their necks and set fire to their homes and set fire to their homes and it all shall fall by the grace of the people and it all shall fall by the grace of the people and it all shall fall by the grace of the people and it all shall fall by the grace of the people and it all shall fall by the grace of the people and it all shall fall fall