Rage, Refuge

this is mine, here's where my home is i don't want to let you break into my world all my life i've been looking for something that's my own, i'm so glad i found it now don't you step on this ground

i don't want to lose an inch of my freedom i'll lose my soul if you steal my refuge leave my cloud and stay away this is my refuge play your dirty tricks, my friend but leave my refuge i grow stronger and you feel smaller guess that's your reason for taking up my time with every secret that you make public your influence on my life grows, ain't this true? don't step on this ground
