Rage, When You're Dead

He's got a pleasure in his life that's a real chill
I think it's funny but the people say he's ill
He likes to keep what's transient, save it from decay
That's what you've got to know if you should pass his way
He's not a killer,but death is his dearest friend
It is for everyone beginning and the end
And on the graveyard, where there's rich and poor the same
He's digging in the ground to set them free again
They've been part of the universe
And they are unique on this earth
And when you dies he's at your door
I tell you what he's waiting for

He's gonna get you when you are dead He's gonna cut your skull free when you're dead He's gonna get you when you are dead You're gonna be the next one when you're dead

It's a passion with him to free them from their flesh All night he's in the cellar rigging up remains And then he's got them all together one by one A real collector of the dead, a lucky man Just give a damn for reverence He's nuts and doesn't need no sense And when you die he's at your door I tell you what he's waiting for

[Repeat 2nd verse]

DEAD! DEAD.
& DEAD! & DEAD.
