

Ragnarok, Searching For My Dark Desire

When the night falls after another day of sorrow do darkness draw itself deeply in to my soul and sin From depths of my inner darkness is the unholy strength rapidly growing
The power of the dark demon is an eternal satisfaction demon of my world give me the strength that you have This moment of glorious defeat is an eternal memory a journey... a learning of my inner self Share your dreams with me hate, sorrow and evil dreams dreams I love with whole my heart Draw me down in the devil's kingdom into the sea of flames and the rivers of grief Take my hate and draw me down
I can feel your glowing nails rip in my soul...
The wind storms within my thoughts and blow out what is left of goodness Water made from of tears of the grieve dead fills my veins and make my heart totally black The soil place my corpse and the flame increases
I see the gate of hell accomodate me
I see the mighty demon ready to embrace me Embrace me... my diabolical shadow
I am the one...
I am one of them...
Join me... join the eternal flame
My darkest desire is fulfilled
