

Rainbirds, Better Than Before

everytime you tell me
you tell me everything
i know i never lie but to myself i never lie, but every time you wake up
you make up mind
and when i close my eyes
i can forget you easier easier is better than before every time you love me you try to love me really, i know i`m not afraid of you i am afraid of me and every time you ask me you ask me to be true and when i give you what you want no, we don't change in any way any way is better than before every time you leave me you promise that you`ll find me a reason why, i know by now a reason is important, eh? and when i smile you`re happy you hope that i was joking maybe i should keep away from you keep closer to myself myself must be better than before
i never lie, but
