

Rainbirds, Pride

shake your dream
like an apple off the tree bed it in the grass lay so still like you never ever will tip the hourglass
a way so bold
how time extends and hearts unfold curious at last true this is a part of me a part you`re not supposed to see so come away come away
just one step into another scenery
out in a different world
don` t look back and don` t you even look at me unless you want to seek at me
true you are a part of me true you`re not supposed be
a scent, a whiff, a touch, a weary smile a wave- good bye, from the bar to the door
-watch the gap in the wooden floor-i` m back till sundown a swift lift in a truck, a fuck, some crack a sly high in the sky
-let my down easy, if you will no pride to fall back to
