

Rainer Maria, Spit And Fire

on the inside of you and i
burning out our true desires with spit and fire

open up your chest
put my hand inside
it's dishwater warm,
smooth as porcelain,
and it flakes away like red rust take those lazy drugs away turn to me instead

i'm dishwater warm,
smooth as porcelain,
and i'll flake away like red rust

everything expires
tonight there's no denying even you and i will die, so why are we hesitating?

knowing that you've opened up yourself to me is no victory but a consolation prize will suffice tonight

maybe you and i should try all the things we are too scared to try.
