You've said before, never bow your head when it is raining
Must wait for miracles drop down.
I don't understand the Rainbow that we thought of embracing together (I think the Rainbow here is Why am I the only one left
*It seems that love does not leave behind anything good
It just leaves behind a broken dream
Can you borrow me some of your love
To enable me to go on drifting
My stubbornness maddening unable to endure roaming
Am I the only one left in the battlefield of loneliness
Your apperance lying vision pretending hiding
(you appear to be lying, pretending and hiding from telling the truth
I flee

repeat

My stubbornness confused barged wander sad
Should I resist it fully
Your appear different forgotten drifting faltering
I surrender
