Ramones, Strength To Endure

Walking through the cross fire heart Feeling heavy and hopeless. Wonderin' how I ever willsee Through this darkness. Every drop of blood can be So beautiful And I sure was bleedin' the drops by The bucketful.

I have the strength to endure And all the love so pure I have the strength to endure Because...

I'm not afraid to tell her Just how things work. Ride a hurricane Through the fast lane Always looking over my shoulder

She said, "there's something about you, And neon lights always gow hot. Baby we can see this through, Just give me all the strength you've got".

I have the strength to endure And all the love so pure I have the strength to endure Because... because...

I'm not afraid to tell her Just how things work. Ride a hurricane Through the fast lane Always looking over my shoulder

She said, "there's something about you, And neon lights always gow hot. Baby we can see this through, Just give me all the strength you've got".

I have the strength to endure And all the love so pure I have the strength to endure Because... because...