

Randi Laubek, Kareelia Lake

If I were blind - would I see clearly through gods, religions, space and time If I were deaf - would I be listening to other tears and joys than mine If I were dumb - would I be wise and have so much to say to the world
If I were lame, then - could I fly not hvaing gestures that would claim it

Tell me do you know a place called Kareelia Lake theres no excuse for walking trough life half awake
the water is your dreams, your courage your flame but I'm not brave - I'm deaf and blind and I'm sure that Kareelia is just a name

If I were blind - would I know beauty the deep the pure - not the contest If I were deaf - would I be better at knowing that nothing is the best
If I were dumb - would I be wise
and have so much to say to the world
not hvaing gestures that would claim it

Tell me do you know a place....
