

Randy Rogers Band, Memory

The day she left me behind i couldn't get her off my mind thinking about all the times we had but i'm a new man now just don't ask me how i know it's hard to believe when that sun goes down you can find me out painting the town drinking away what used to be cause i've got nothing to prove and there's nothing left for me to lose nothing more to me than just a memory go out every night.
up til the morning light having the time of my life when i see you out with him all i can do is grin glad it's not me whose missing out
