

Randy Travis, I'm Still Here, You're Still Gone the sun comes up, and you're still gone, the world goes round and life goes on, but life is short, and love is long and when the sun goes down you're still gone, now ain't it strange, how we make things right, we think things change overnight, but then the sun comes up and the night moves on and i'm still here and you're still gone.

i guess i missed the point i thought i was doin right, i'd get up early morning and work into the night, i was always makin money, i shoulda been makin love, now the man i'm today knows that moeny ain't enough, but if i had a chance to give one more thing, it wouldn't be a rose or a diamond ring, cause you showed me where i went wrong, cause i'm still here and you're still gone, hey i guess i missed the point i thought i was doin right, i'd get up early in the mornin and work into the night, i was always makin money, i shoulda been makin love, now the man i'm today knows that moeny ain't enough, the sun comes up and you're still gone, the world goes round and life goes on, and you showed me where i went wrong, cause i'm still here, your're still gone, yes i'm still here and you're still gone
