Rascal Flatts, One Good Love

One good love Erases all the bitter tears on an empty dance hall All those lonely nights when she never called It just don't seem so tragic after all With one good love

One good love And daddy's hands were strong and fair And a momma understands because she's been there And all mistakes were just because they cared so much With one good love

[Chorus] One good love You bless all my memories You soften the fall of my tears And in my arms you're more than enough You're one good love

Hey you're one good love Yeah, you're one good love

[Repeat Chorus]

One good love And born again means more than pass the plate and bow your head Yes, you bury what needs burying, you raise it from the dead The very best, you heal the brokeness, give grace to everyone With one good love

Yeah, oh, one good love Hey, hey, one good love Yeah, I'll give you one good love Oh, give me one good love now, love yeah ooooooo yeah Lord, I feel born again, yeah You got to give me one good love now One good love
