

Rasmus, Every Thing You Say

Tired of being seen as a bird in a cage
Tired of being heard all he did last week
Obviously you want to beat me cause everytime when I fall you're the first to reveal me
Live for yourself instead
Do me a favour
Feed your empty head
You drive me close to the edge
Everything you say, you say to annoy me
Watching every move I make whenever I'm around
Everything you do, you do it to destroy me
Waiting for the darkest hour to put me down
Time is gradual, the surface is all you can see

And if I told you the truth you might understand me
Feed your empty head
Do me a favour
Live for yourself instead
You drive me close to the edge
Everything you say, you say to annoy me
Watching every move I make whenever I'm around
Everything you do, you do it to destroy me
Waiting for the darkest hour to put me down
You drive me close to the edge
