

Raul Midon, If You Really Want

I can see you're so much better better than before
there's a time for sunny weather when you'll smile once more.

And if you really want
you'll take the time.
And if you really want
you'll make your mind up.
And if you really want
you'll hold the line

until you find your wings to fly
with open eyes and water turns to wine.

Water go to the wine

There are those who keep you standing just to see you fall sell their souls without demanding anything at all.

But if you really want
you'll take the time.
And if you really want
you'll make your mind up and if you really really want you'll hold the line

until you find your wings to fly
with open eyes and water turns to wine.

Water gonna turn to wine, Oh.

And in my waking dreams
I'm traveling toward the stars.
The stars they say are in the sky they seem so far away like jupiter and mars.
All at once i know, i know who you are

And if you really want
you'll take the time.
And if you really want
you'll make your mind up.
And if you really want
you'll hold the line

until you find your wings to fly
with open eyes and water turns to wine.

Oh, water gonna turn to wine.

I know that now's the time when water's gonna turn to wine and we wake to find that we can fly.

Water's gonna turn to wine
